Storms Close
Schools in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violent storms of one form or another whiplashed across the nation today, spawning heavy snows in the northern Plains and Great Lakes region, gale-force winds through the Mid-west and thundershowers in Pennsylvania and New York.

A mammoth deep freeze tracked the bitter storms and temperatures fell below zero in many areas.

Fresh snow piled from 4-10 inches in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Eight inches of snow at Traverse City, Mich., Wednesday night closed a 5-mile section of U.S. 31. The snow struck the Upper Peninsula pushing the season's total to 201 inches in Keweenaw County. High winds in the Detroit area toppled power lines leaving 5,000 homes without electricity.

Minneapolis-St. Paul received 8 inches of snow which closed down most activity in the Twin Cities.

Schools closed in many parts of the state and early morning temperatures dipped to -30. It was -9 in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Winds raging at more than 80 miles per hour in downtown Chicago blew the roof of a building under construction onto the tracks of a commuter railroad, disrupting service for several hours.

A 300-foot radio tower was knocked down near Medina, Ohio, as 70-mile gusts skipped along the northern tier of the state.

Tornadoes touched down at Muncie, Ind., and Waco, Ohio, tearing roofs and trees. No injuries were reported.

A violent line of thunderstorms tore across Pennsylvania and New York State.

Trees were downed, window panes smashed and power disrupted in the city.

The winds roared through Buffalo, N.Y. at more than 70 m.p.h. causing similar upheavals.

A fire spurred by winds at Kahoka, Mo., destroyed six businesses.

At Columbus, Ohio, two men were injured fighting a fire swept by 50-m.p.h. winds through several acres of land-fill.

The wind and rain swung south into Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky and dumped hail on Washington, D.C.

Cold warnings were issued from Arkansas into New England.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

Dear Readers: A clipping from the Eureka, California HUMBOLDT TIMES came across my desk recently. I'd like to share it with you. This letter to a teenage job-seeker bears reprinting. DEAR KID: Today you asked me for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

But I hired a teenager today. You saw him. He was the one with the polished shoes and a necktie. What was so special about him? Not experience; neither of you had any. ATTITUDE, son, A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E, put him on the payroll. He wanted the job badly enough to shuck the leather jacket, get a haircut, and look in the phone book to find out what this company makes. He did his best to impress me. That's where he edged you out.

You see, Kid, people who hire people aren't "with" a lot of things. We know more about Bing than Ringo, and we have some Stone Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes us prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the checks we sing, and if you want one you'd better tune to our wave length.

I want someone who will go out in the plant, keep his eyes open and work for me like he'd work for himself. I couldn't care less if you're behind in your car payments. I want you to be interested in MY problems. If you have the vaguest idea of what I'm trying to say, let it show next time you ask for a job. You'll be head and shoulders over the rest!

Look, Kid: The only time jobs grew on trees was while most of manpower was wearing G.I.'s and pulling K. P. For the rest of history, you've had to get a job like you get a girl: "Case the situation, wear a clean shirt, and try to appear willing."

You may not believe it, but all around you the employers are looking for young men (and women) smart enough to go after a job in the old-fashioned

Coming, Going

Mrs. Dollie Mae Moore of Little Rock is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. T. White.

The Rev. R. B. Moore, Jr. and Syd McMath have been attending the mid-year Methodist Conference Board Meeting in Little Rock this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis went to Pine Bluff last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McBryde and Capt. and Mrs. Rex Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lewis returned home Wednesday from Houston where she has recently undergone surgery at the Methodist Hospital.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Only Cole could write a passionate song," said Alan Jay Lerner. "And he never wrote with self-pity."

For illustration, longtime friends of the late Cole Porter sang a few of his passionate, nonpitying songs. Fred Astaire intoned "Night and Day," Ethel Merman belted out "Make It Another Old-Fashioned, Please," and Frank Sinatra delivered "I've Got You Under My Skin."

These figures, along with Gene Kelly and Carson Kanin, saluted Porter this week at a dinner given by the Friends of the Libraries of the University of Southern California. The panelists sang their tributes and talked about their association with the Indiana-born songwriter.

Sinatra recalled when he was a stripling of a singer appearing at a roadhouse in Englewood, N.J. To his astonishment, Cole Porter came in the place one night with friends. Sinatra, who doubled as head waiter, gave Porter "the greatest buildup since Charles Lindbergh," much to the songwriter's displeasure. "I dedicated one of his songs to him — and then I forgot all the words," Sinatra recalled.

Kanin asked Astaire if he knew "Night and Day" would be such a success when he first sang it in "The Gay Divorcee." "I didn't recognize it as a great hit," the dancer admitted, "I was more concerned with whether I could sing it, with all those high notes."

elist, "A young man who sang 'Easy to Love' in 'Born to Dance.'" A skinny, towering actor, grizzled for a Western role, ambled to the microphone. "I'm Jimmy Stewart," he announced.

He told of his own concern as to whether he could hit the high notes. He asked Porter if he could "hit some of those notes down." The songwriter refused. Stewart demonstrated for the U.S.C. audience his way with "Easy to Love," grimacing at the high notes like a choir boy in puberty.

The panelists talked sadly of Porter's final years, when his illness prompted him to drop the big, elegant dinners he enjoyed giving. Then he would entertain only a few close friends, but always with the same elegance.

Porter had given up songwriting after supplying a couple of tunes for Kelly in "Les Girls."

Porter, long troubled with his broken legs, had undergone an amputation. "Once I asked him why he didn't write some more," said Astaire. "He said, 'I can't pedal the piano, and I can't think without that.'" He died at his Brentwood home Oct. 16, 1964, at the age of 71.

LIONS ON THE LINE

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Apologizing for the recent late arrival of the night train to Morogoro, deep in Tanzania game country, East African Railways claimed lions were to blame.

The driver picked out the pride in his spotlight as they straddled the line. So hard did he jam on his brakes that a carriage was derailed.

One lion was run over and killed. The rest prowled around angrily, preventing repair work and delaying the train for six hours.

New Mexico State Makes Comeback

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New Mexico State is the comeback team of the year in college basketball this season.

The Aggies from Las Cruces cemented their claim to the honor by whipping Texas Western, the national champions, 64-53 Wednesday night for the second time.

It was the Aggies' sixth victory in their last seven games and topped their over-all record to 14-8 compared to their dismal 4-22 mark last season.

The second straight road defeat of nationally eighth-ranked Texas Western overshadowed Syracuse's 11th straight victory.

The 10th-ranked Orange, in the Associated Press Top Ten for the first time, whipped Colgate on the road 100-86. Seventh-ranked Houston romped over St. Mary's of Texas 122-58 at home.

Mal Graham, the nation's leading major college scorer, threw in 45 points to lead NYU over Manhattan 76-63.

Villanova edged Canisius 47-44, Toledo whacked Bowling Green 103-83, Georgia Tech downed Georgia 87-79, Virginia Tech thumped George Washington 78-66, Dayton walloped Northern Illinois 101-60, Marquette nipped Xavier of Ohio 71-69, Chicago Loyola squeaked by Western Michigan 85-84 in overtime and Denver defeated the Air Force 75-73.

Bob Evans, with 16 points, led New Mexico State to a 29-11 halftime lead as the Aggies handed the national champs from El Paso their fifth defeat against 16 triumphs.

The Aggies' terrific defense limited Texas Western to only two field goals in the first half. The Miners actually didn't score a field goal during a 14-minute span.

Ken John, topped Texas Western with 11 points as David Lattin, the Miners' star, was limited to five points and fouled out on personals. Don Haskins, Texas Western coach who is probably thinking of changing his team's orange road uniforms to blue, was not available for comment after the game.

Syracuse upped its record to 18-2 by defeating Colgate behind George Hickey's 24 points. Rick Caputo topped the Red Raiders with 25. Elvin Hayes' 30 points sparked Houston in its rout of St. Mary's.

Little 5-foot-nine Bobby Brizendine converted seven free throws in the last 49 seconds to help Georgia Tech over Georgia at Athens, Ga., for the Engineers' 10th triumph in their last 11 games.

Ted Ware threw in 22 points to lead Virginia Tech over George Washington in the nation's capital for the Gobblers' 16th victory against three defeats.

Dayton, another top independent, had little trouble crushing Northern Illinois at home as Don May, playing little more than half the game, scored 20 points and grabbed 17 rebounds for the Flyers.

Miami of Ohio stayed on the heels of Toledo in the Mid-American Conference by downing Ohio Univ. 80-56 at Athens, Ohio, behind 27 points from Fred Foster and 20 from Little 5-8 Phil Snow.

Robertson Not Bothered by Guard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson looks like a man from Mars in the cumbersome face guard he wears to protect his injured mouth but he's just the same old Wizard of Oz to the New York Knicks.

Robertson put on one of his routine shows against the Knicks Wednesday night, leading Cincinnati to a 129-118 home court victory. The Big O scored 46 points and added 14 assists in his one-man blitz against New York.

In other games Wednesday, Philadelphia downed Detroit 127-121 and Los Angeles whipped Boston 124-114. As a result, the 76ers opened up a 7½ game lead over the Celtics in the Eastern Division race.

Robertson hit on 15 of 28 field goal attempts and raised his average against the Knicks this season to better than 34 points per game. He got scoring help from Happy Hairston, who had 24 points and Adrian Smith, who added 22.

Dick Barnett led the Knicks with 21 and Dick Van Arsdale had 20.

The victory moved Cincinnati within two games of New York in the race for third place in the BA's Eastern Division.

At Detroit, Wally Jones did the early scoring and Billy Cunningham picked up the late points as Philadelphia whipped the Pistons for the seventh straight time.

Jones, who finished with 26 points, scored 12 in the first period and Cunningham had 13 of his 34 in the final quarter for the 76ers.

Dave Bing and Eddie Miles led the Pistons with 24 each.

On the West Coast, veteran Elgin Baylor collected 39 points and snared 21 rebounds in triggering Los Angeles to its ninth victory in the last 12 outings. Jerry West added 33 points while John Havlicek topped Boston with 24.

The Celtics led 32-30 at the end of the first period and 65-59 at halftime before the Lakers began to click. Los Angeles went ahead 90-82 after three quarters while outscoring Boston 31-17 and pulled away to a 117-101 bulge with slightly more than three minutes to play.

The victory enabled the third-place Lakers to move with 2½ games of runner-up St. Louis in the Western Division.

AFL to Set Up Plan for Pensions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The pension plan for American Football League players goes on a par, effective at once, with that of the National League.

AFL owners took the step Wednesday, paving the way for interleague trades. Disparity of pensions plans had been viewed as the biggest obstacle to such deals.

The action at the AFL meeting here boosts its players' benefits more than fourfold. It was made retroactive to 1960, the year the junior circuit was organized — and to 1955 in cases of players who had served in the NFL which introduced its pension plan that year.

Under the new plan, based on conservative growth projections and subject to revision, a five-year veteran would receive $437 monthly at age 65. A 10-year veteran would get $656 and a 15-year veteran would draw $821. Under the old plan, a five-year AFL man received less than $100.

Life insurance coverage was increased from $12,000 to $20,000, and $40,000 was made payable in case of accidental death. The plan also gives each player $10,000 worth of major medical coverage for himself, wife and each child.

The money to pay for the new plan is to come from the Super Bowl, the All-Star Game and television revenues according to AFL President Milton Woodward.

Owners put $1,250,000 toward the pension increase. In addition, each club is to contribute $303,000 annually.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Pine Bluff High School announced Wednesday the hiring of Jack Robey, 31, as head football coach. He succeeds Ray Utley who resigned Jan. 19 to become an assistant football coach at Southern Methodist.

Robey, assistant coach at Henderson State College, has coached high schools teams at Little Rock Catholic, Prescott and Crossett. He reports for work here Friday.

3 Advance in Small College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lincoln of Missouri and San Diego State each advanced three positions in the latest Associated Press small-college basketball poll while Southern Illinois, Kentucky Wesleyan and Cheney State held the first three places in that order.

Lincoln climbed to fourth place after defeating Fort Hays, Kan. State 102-79 and Kentucky State 88-72 for a 21-2 record. San Diego State zoomed to sixth on the strength of victories over Whittier, California State of Long Beach and Cal Poly of Pomona.

Southern Illinois collected all except one of the votes for first place in the balloting by a national panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday. The Salukis, 15-2, after downing Centenary 79-63, also received one vote for second place, totaling 169 points.

Howard Payne, unranked, received the other first-place vote.

Kentucky Wesleyan was named to the No. 2 spot on 16 ballots for 144 points. Kentucky Wesleyan beat Steubenville and Evansville, lifting its record to 15-1.

Cheney State held the No. 3 position despite a 58-53 loss to Cannon, its second of the campaign.

Jumps High for Guy Only 6'1"

NEW YORK (AP) — For a guy who's 6-foot-1, Mal Graham can jump pretty high. But he has never jumped as high before as he did the past week in the nation's major college basketball scoring race.

Graham, a New York University standout for three seasons, leaped from sixth to first, according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

That, the NCAB says, is something no major collegian ever has done this late in the season since it has been keeping official records.

The sparkling senior scored 113 points in three games last week, raising his average — through games of last Saturday — to 29.4 points a game.

The collective performance rocketed Graham ahead of UCLA's Lew Alcindor, who dropped to third with a 28.9 average, and Jim Walker of Providence, who remained in second with a 29.1 mark. Elvin Hayes of Houston, 27.6, and Rutgers' Bob Lloyd, 27.5, complete the first five.

Hope Girls Going to Tournament

By RALPH ROUNTON
The Hope Ladycats put everything on the line this weekend when they travel to Ashdown for the District 7A West tournament which decides the representatives to the state tournament next week at Clinton.

Tonight the Hope ladies, who sport a 15-6 season mark, are pitted in a first round battle against a mediocre DeQueen team. Gametime is 7:40.

The Ladycats have a record against district opposition, but they did not participate in the district round-robin during the regular season. The Ashdown Panthers, victory over Hope, 49-34, back in December, are favorites.

Vanderbilt's Warren Is Coming Up

By BOB GILBERT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Vanderbilt's Bob Warren, virtually a midget among giants in Southeastern Conference rebounding, has been looking up, at people like Tom Boerwinkle, Gary Keller and Jerry Brawner all season. So one day last week he simply grew an inch.

Warren is the SEC's eighth-ranked rebounder, and his performance on the boards Saturday night against Tennessee could be the determining factor in this crucial SEC basketball showdown.

Until Feb. 10, the Commodore junior was listed on the roster at 6-foot-3, but he made a confession:

"Shucks, I haven't been 6-3 since my freshman year. I've grown almost an inch and a half and gained 15 pounds since those heights and weights were passed around."

Now, Warren is 6-4½, but he's still looking up at 7-foot Boerwinkle, whom he will battle on the boards in Knoxville Saturday night.

Feminine Touch Aids Cage Team

By RACHEL EBERLE
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Husband and wife teamwork has made the Indiana University basketball team No. 1, at least in the home of the coach.

With Indiana in a four-way tie for top spot in the Big Ten, Norma Jean Watson, 39, wife of Coach Lou Watson, gives the Hoosiers top billing in the family's seven-room home within blocks of the campus.

"It's a real team effort," Mrs. Watson said of the duties she inherits from her husband's position.

She's never sure when Lou might call from the fieldhouse to ask her to show the campus to parents of a prospective player. Maybe son Mike, 16, will have to stay later than usual for high school basketball practice. Or the two girls may be late coming home from girls athletic association activities.

"I can't stand the humdrum," Mrs. Watson said.

Lou, 41, is in his second year as head coach at his alma mater after 14 years as freshman and assistant coach. Mike, 6-foot-2 and still growing, takes after his 6-4 father and is a junior forward for Bloomington High School.

The daughters, Lee Ann, 14, and Judy, 11, join their mother at the Indiana and high school games.

Mrs. Watson, an ardent sports fan who loves basketball, attends all the college home games, and a few of them on the road and most of the high school home games.

Dark-haired, attractive Mrs. Watson said she often listens three hours as her husband rehearses a game. "Lou's not a good loser, but he's out there to win so that makes sense."

Mrs. Watson also aids in recruiting, spending a weekend with parents of prospective Indiana players. "I handle the mother's angle. They want to know about curriculum, food, where their sons will sleep. The campus sells itself, and I really enjoy meeting different people."

She also is a counselor of sorts for the wives of the five married basketball players.

"It's a busy, interesting life," she teased. "The glamour comes, I suppose, when you're winning and are on top."

CLAY-FOLLEY Fight Set March 22

Porkers Sign 12 More Toll Now Is 32

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas announced Wednesday the signing of 12 more football players to letters of intent with the Razorbacks.

The Porkers have now signed 32 high school football players in the two days Southwest Conference schools have been allowed to do so.

The latest signees were David Carter, star back from Fort Smith Northside; Steve Birdwell, Murfreesboro, halfback; Rodney Cook, Fort Smith St. Anne's tackle; Dave Lundquist, St. Anne's quarterback; Bobby Fields, Farwell, Tex., quarterback; and Bill Montgomery, Carrollton, Tex., quarterback.

It will be the first heavyweight title bout in the Garden since Jan. 12, 1951 when Ezzard Charles stopped Lee Oma. It place after big second six-game win by Clay's first defense in blocks, were only 18 plus behind. And young Tim Harahan, 22 knockouts while Folley is 74-4 with 40 knockouts. He has had who scored his first PBA victory at Kansas City last week, was beginning to find the groove.

60,000 Tucson Open Underway

By STEVE BASSETT
AP Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The $60,000 Tucson Open golf tournament got underway Thursday with some 144 pros keeping one eye on Arnold Palmer and the other on the wind.

Palmer, returning to the tour after sitting out the Phoenix Open last week, is the favorite for the $12,000 winner's purse, mainly because the Tucson National Golf Club course seems tailor-made for him.

The par-36-36-72 desert layout measures 7,200 yards and with the exception of the 10th and 18th holes, both faced with water hazards, offers no real trouble spots.

However, if weather forecasts are accurate, wind could be a big factor, especially on the first two days of the 72-hole tournament. Forecasts call for wind gusts of up to 25 miles per hour Thursday and Friday under mostly cloudy skies. Temperatures are expected to be in the lower 70s.

Without a wind Wednesday, Palmer managed to shoot a two-under-par 70 during the pro-am warmup, five strokes behind leader Bill Johnston, club pro from Phoenix, Ariz.

Defending champion is Joe Campbell, golden-shodded cigar-chomper from Tansil, Tenn., who managed an even par 72 Wednesday.

Palmer, winner of the Los Angeles Open, is the only 1967 tour winner entered. Phoenix Open titlist Julius Boros has taken a month off the tour to be with his family in Florida.

Clay-Folley Fight Set March 22

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — By the time Cassius Clay has disposed of 34-year-old Zora Folley on the night of March 22, he will have defended his world heavyweight title seven times in 12 months.

No wonder the great man, who insists his foes call him by his Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, is looking for new worlds to conquer.

"I'd like to say one more thing," said Clay Wednesday at a news conference to announce Defense No. 9 against Folley in Madison Square Garden.

"I would like to start working on those top basketball players after I finish whipping this man."

Clay drew a laugh because there have been stories recently that he had been lined up for a bout with Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 pro basketball star. Herbert Muhammad, Clay's manager, reportedly nixed the match.

Apparently the champ, who is appealing his 1-A draft status on the grounds that he is a Muslim minister, intends to keep fighting as often as possible.

Johnny Persol of New York, who will box Clay's stablemate, James Ellis, in a 10-round semifinal on the March 22 Garden card, was in the audience. He heckled Clay about a shot at the title.

"Ellis is better than the last two contenders," said Clay. "If I can hit James and get away with it in training I know I'm ready. If Persol can whip Ellis he will be among the men considered. I'm fighting at least six men this year and you (pointing to Persol) have got to be involved. Just keep talking."

Although Folley is ranked the leading contender now that Clay has beaten Ernie Terrell, he will be a longshot. Main Bout, Inc., the closed circuit people who usually handle Clay's bouts, are not involved.

The 15-round match will be seen on home television by a special network of RKO-General and the Garden with New York blacked out. The payoff for Clay will be modest, compared with the big money from the closed circuit shows. The champ gets 50 per cent of the Garden gate and a guarantee of $150,000.

Martineau of Nashville, Tenn., from the ancillary rights. Folley averaging better than 221, held gets 15 per cent of the gate and the lead in the Professional Boxers Association's $40,000 ancillary.

Buckeye Open after Wednesday's opening 12 games.

But stars like Jim St. John and Dave Davis, tied for second Charles stopped Lee Oma. It place after big second six-game win by Clay's first defense in blocks, were only 18 plus behind. And young Tim Harahan, 22 knockouts while Folley is 74-4 with 40 knockouts. He has had who scored his first PBA victory at Kansas City last week, was beginning to find the groove.

longer is needed for the present members of the system, persons serving on those commissions could qualify for coverage under the State Employee Retirement System.

Harvey also introduced the lobbyist's registration bill, which was approved 20-10. Because the bill will not go into effect until 90 days after the adjournment of this General Assembly, it will not affect the lobbyist's until the 1969 legislative session, or until the governor calls a special session.

The House defeated the code of ethics bill 51-44. Opponents declared that the measure wasn't needed and that it impugned the integrity of the legislature.

Introduced by Reps. Charles Stewart of Fayetteville and Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana, the measure would have provided for the removal from office of any person whose actions were in conflict with the fulfillment of his public functions.

Among those speaking against the bill was Rep. Jack S. Oakes of Augusta, who said: "I look around the floor, and I don't see any man or lady here who sought office to serve his personal and selfish interest. I see people who are honest, dedicated and who came here to serve the people. I resent the very fact that this bill was introduced."

I don't feel that I am indicted for murder because there's a law on the books against murder," retorted Rep. Herb Rule of Little Rock.

The House resolved itself into a committee of the whole to hear Assistant Education Commissioner Harvey Snell explain the school-aid distribution bill, and sent the measure back to its Education Committee after Snell said that it contained no guarantee that teachers would receive even a minimal raise during the second year of the biennium.

Teachers would be guaranteed a flat $500 raise during the first year of the biennium, Snell said, but as many as 2, 000 teachers might not receive raises the second year because of the distribution formula.

Rep. Harry Carter of Little Rock, a member of the subcommittee that worked on the bill, said the committee had intended for teachers to get at least a minimal increase in the second year.

Rep. James L. Linder of West Helena withdrew from consideration a bill that would have authorized counties, municipalities and school districts to appropriate funds for financial assistance to students attending private segregated schools.

The bill had been introduced at the request of residents in the area of the Marvell Academy, an all-white private school.

Linder said there had been some delay in getting the bill drawn, and that the legislature now was too far along to get the bill passed.

A bill to put the state Welfare Department in charge of three state training schools was amended in the Senate to exclude the Girls Training School at Fargo.

That leaves only the Girls Training School at Alexander and the Boys Training School at Wrightsville covered. The Boys Training School at Pine Bluff was left out of the bill because of opposition from Pine Bluff legislators.

Most of the Senate's five-hour session was spent considering budget measures, including the $1.2 million general appropriations bill for operation of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government during the 1967-69 biennium. The Senate approved the bill.

In other action Wednesday, the Senate:

—Defeated 25-7 a bill that would have appropriated $24,000 of the $51,944 that the state Claims Commission said was due Leroy Jones, a former State Penitentiary trustee who became totally and permanently disabled when he was wounded Sept. 9, 1965 by a trusty shooting at another inmate.

Court Will Rule on Privacy

By BARRY SCHWEID WASHINGTON (AP) — For four years fire inspectors have wanted to look over Norman See's warehouse in Seattle. They are still trying.

Now the Supreme Court will have to decide if they can get in — and how.

If the court does what See wants, the firemen first will have to get a judge's permission to inspect.

If the court does what Seattle wants, the firemen need only show up and See must let them in.

Behind the court's choice is a major test of the right of privacy — for businessmen in their shops and warehouses, for families in their homes.

And, in the view of Chief Justice Earl Warren, voiced at a hearing Wednesday, this is a test of the right of women, alone at home with their children, to protect themselves against dangerous intruders.

Both homes and businesses are involved, for in a companion case from San Francisco, bookstore owner Roland Camera is testing the power of health inspectors to examine his apartment without a search warrant.

Eight years ago, the Supreme Court split 5 to 4 in deciding Baltimore city health inspectors did not need a search warrant to check a man's basement for rats.

Now the justices are being asked to reverse the ruling in the interests of privacy, enshrined in the prohibition the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution puts on "unreasonable searches and seizures."

The four justices who dissented in 1959 — Warren, Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. — are on today's court.

Two of the five justices who comprised the majority — Felix Frankfurter and Charles E. Whittaker — are gone.

Bad Practice Buy Good in the Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Toronto Maple Leafs were so bad in practice the other day that their coach, Punch Imlach, chased them off the ice. They were so good against New York Wednesday night, that they almost chased the Rangers off the ice. The Leafs, who suffered through a 10-game losing streak and went almost one month between victories, made up for lost time against the Rangers, blistering six goals past Ed Giacomin and getting airtight goaltending from Johnny Bower for a 6-0 shutout. The victory was the second straight for the Leafs and moved them into fourth place in the National Hockey League, two points in front of Detroit and two back of Montreal. Imlach, who seldom pulls punches, ordered his team out of Maple Leaf Gardens Tuesday after a lackluster workout. But Wednesday, it was the Rangers, not the Leafs, who looked like they didn't belong on the ice. Largest of the British Channel islands is Jersey.

HOPE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1-A

P. O. BOX 639

HOPE, ARKANSAS 71801

NOTICE OF SCHOOL DESEGREGATION PLAN UNDER TITLE VI OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964

THIS NOTICE IS MADE AVAILABLE TO INFORM YOU ABOUT THE DESEGREGATION OF OUR SCHOOLS. KEEP A COPY OF THIS NOTICE. IT WILL ANSWER MANY QUESTIONS ABOUT SCHOOL DESEGREGATION.

1. DESEGREGATION PLAN IN EFFECT

The HOPE public school system is being desegregated under a plan adopted in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The purpose of the desegregation plan is to eliminate from our school system the racial segregation of students and all other forms of discrimination based on race, color, or national origin.

2. THIRTY-DAY SPRING CHOICE PERIOD

Each student or his parent, or other adult person acting as parent, is required to choose the school the student will attend next school year. The choice period will begin on March 1, and close March 31, 1967.

3. EXPLANATORY LETTERS AND SCHOOL CHOICE FORMS

On the first day of the choice period, an explanatory letter and this notice will be sent by first-class mail to the parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of each student then in the schools who is expected to attend school the following school year. A school choice form will be sent with each letter, together with a return envelope addressed to the Superintendent. Additional copies of the letter, this notice and the choice form are freely available to the public at any school and at the Superintendent's office.

4. RETURNING THE CHOICE FORMS

Parents and students, at their option, may return the completed choice forms by hand to any school or by mail to the Superintendent's office, at any time during the 30-day choice period. No preference will be given for choosing early during the choice period. A choice is required for each student. No assignment to a school can be made unless a choice is made first.

5. CHOICE FORM INFORMATION

The school choice form lists the names, locations and grades offered for each school. The reasons for any choice made are not to be stated. The form asks for the name, address and age of the student, the school and grade currently or last attended, the school chosen for the following year, the appropriate signature, and whether the form has been signed by the student or his parent. Any letter or other written communication which identifies the student and the school he wishes to attend will be deemed just as valid as if submitted on the choice form supplied by the school system. The names of students and the schools they choose or are assigned to under the plan will not be made public by school officials.

6. COURSE AND PROGRAM INFORMATION

To guide students and parents in making a choice of school, listed below, by schools, are the courses and programs which are not given in every school in this school system.

7. SIGNING THE CHOICE FORM

A choice form may be signed by a parent or other adult person acting as parent. A student who has reached the age of 15 at the time of choice, or will next enter the ninth or any higher grade, may sign his own choice form. The student's choice shall be controlling unless a different choice is exercised by his parent before the end of the period during which the student exercises his choice.

8. PROCESSING OF CHOICES

No choice will be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In cases where granting all choices for any school would cause overcrowding, the students choosing the school who live closest to it will be assigned to that school. Whenever a choice is to be denied, overcrowding will be determined by a uniform standard applicable to all schools in the system.

9. NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT, SECOND CHOICE

All students and their parents will be promptly notified in writing of their school assignments. Should any student be denied his choice because of overcrowding he will be promptly notified and given a choice among all other schools in the system where space is available.

10. STUDENTS MOVING INTO THE COMMUNITY

A choice of school for any student who will be new to the school system may be made during the 30-day choice period or at any other time before he enrolls in school. An explanatory letter, this notice and the school choice form will be given out for each new student as soon as the school system knows about the student. At least seven days will be allowed for the return of the choice form when a choice is made after the 30-day choice period. A choice must be made for each student. No assignment to any school can be made unless a choice is made first.

11. STUDENTS ENTERING FIRST GRADE

The parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of every child entering the first grade is required to choose the school his child will attend. Choices will be made under the same free choice process used for students new to the school system in other grades, as provided in paragraph 10.

12. PRIORITY OF LATE CHOICES

No choice made after the end of the 30-day choice period may be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In the event of overcrowding, choices made during the 30-day choice period will have first priority. Overcrowding will be determined by the standard provided for in paragraph 8. Any parent or student whose first choice is denied because of overcrowding will be given a second choice in the manner provided for in paragraph 9.

13. TESTS, HEALTH RECORDS AND OTHER ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Any academic tests or other procedures used in assigning students to schools, grades, classrooms, sections, courses of study, or for any other purpose, will be applied uniformly to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No choice of school will be denied because of failure at the time of choice to provide any health record, birth certificate, or other document. The student will be tentatively assigned in accordance with the plan and the choice made, and given ample time to obtain any required document. Curriculum, credit, and promotion procedures will not be applied in such a way as to hamper freedom of choice of any student.

14. CHOICES ONCE MADE CANNOT BE ALTERED

Once a choice has been submitted, it may not be changed, even though the choice period has not ended. The choice is binding for the entire school year to which it applies, except in the case of (1) compelling hardship, (2) change of residence to a place where another school is closer, (3) the availability of a school designed to fit the special needs of a physically handicapped student, (4) the availability at another school of a course of study required by the student, which is not available at the school chosen.

15. ALL OTHER ASPECTS OF SCHOOLS DESEGREGATED

All school-connected services, facilities, athletics, activities and programs are open to all on a desegregated basis. A student attending school for the first time on a desegregated basis may not be subject to any disqualification or waiting period for participation in activities and programs, including athletics, which might otherwise apply because he is a transfer student. All transportation furnished for the school system will also operate on a desegregated basis. Facilities will be desegregated, and no staff member will lose his position because of race, color or national origin. This includes any case where less staff is needed because schools are closed or enrollment is reduced.

16. ATTENDANCE ACROSS SCHOOL SYSTEM LINES

No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in the community it serves to attend school in another school system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in another school system to attend school in this system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color or national origin.

17. VIOLATIONS TO BE REPORTED

It is a violation of our desegregation plan for any school official or teacher to influence or dissuade any person from choosing a school where a desegregated education can be obtained, or to threaten any person with penalties or promise favors for any choice made. It is also a violation of Federal regulations for any person to intimidate, threaten, coerce, retaliate or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with the free making of a choice of a desegregated school. Any person having any knowledge of any violation of these prohibitions should report the facts immediately by mail or phone to the Equal Educational Opportunities Program, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C. 20202 (telephone 202-962-0333). The name of any person reporting any violation will not be disclosed without his consent. Any other violation of the desegregation plan or other discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in the school system is also a violation of Federal requirements, and should likewise be reported. Anyone with a complaint to report should first bring it to the attention of State or local school officials, unless he feels it would not be helpful to do so. If State or local officials do not correct the violation promptly, any person familiar with the facts of the violation should report them immediately to the U. S. Office of Education at the above address or phone number.

When you miss five to the queen the finesse play is far superior to the drop. Your problem is not whether to finesse but rather how and when to finesse.

In general your plan is to take the finesse on the second round. The reason for this is that if the suit is going to break 4-1 then once in five times the singleton will be the queen and by postponing the finesse you may pick up that singleton queen.

After these preliminary instructions we present a hand for the Department of Utter Confusion. It tends to show that a little learning is apt to be dangerous.

South's seven no-trump call was optimistic. If North were to hold solid diamonds and the ace-king of hearts, North could go to seven once South asked for kings. When you do make an optimistic bid it pays to be able to play the hand properly and South went wrong.

At trick two he led a diamond to dummy's king. Then he came back to his hand and South made the usual complaint about bad luck but it was bad play rather than bad luck that led to his downfall.

This was one time when South should have taken a first-round diamond finesse. The reason was that if the diamonds were going to break 4-1 he would lose to a singleton queen but he would gain a trick against a singleton small diamond.

By AILEEN SNODDY

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The 10th Earl of Shaftesbury—Anthony Ashley-Cooper—has all the credentials to be a leader of the Jet Set's Beautiful People.

He manages the family estate of 9,000 acres near Wimborne in Dorset, England; owns the rights to sandy wealth at the bottom of the largest lake in Ireland, has quarries in Belfast, a chalet in Switzerland and is a skier, sports shooter and mountaineer.

However, the 28-year-old earl says London may be swinging but "I'm out of it." Even though he drives two or three days a week from St. Giles to London in his Aston Martin too quickly to suit his Italian bride, Lord Shaftesbury says his is the calmer world of the concert hall.

The voice is quiet with an accent honed by years at Eton and Oxford. His worldly worries center on raising money for the severely handicapped and crippled children and for the London Philharmonic Orchestra and the Bourne-mouth Symphony Orchestra—not getting a spot at the Salisbury pub to lift a pint with Richard and Liz.

The children have special houses on his estate and are supported by the Shaftesbury Society founded by his grandfather in 1844. He recently escorted Queen Elizabeth on a tour of a new children's home in Bournemouth.

A major portion of his busy schedule goes to managing the estate. As a boy "I grew up on the farm," and the efficiency of Danish farming and automation fascinate him. He envisions a factory farm; in a sense, farming in layers or in a kind of skyscraper. Another busy bit of entrepreneurship now involves getting the water rights to the lake in Ireland.

This revelation led his wife to exclaim, "You mean you don't own the water?"

The couple met on a Swiss glacier, married last July. This reveals the earl's interests outside the concert hall or in farming.

A mountain guide who worked on his estate to learn English talked him into climbing. Once he tried it he was "captured by the beauty and awe of the mountains. You can feel a conceit of what you do in life but when you get in the mountains, they make you feel small."

In Switzerland he likes to take a single-engine plane to a glacier and ski down the several thousand feet of slopes. This avocation led to a question of whether many are interested in challenges today.

The earl feels, and the countess agrees, that "it is more difficult for people today to accept challenges unless they are willing to go out of their way to find them. An extreme example may be rowing the Atlantic. It may be ridiculous but just to get out doing it is a challenge."

Realizing the "cool it" attitude of most made him admire the citizens of Charleston, S.C. He was there recently to launch the planning for the South Carolina Tricentennial in 1970. He is a direct descendant of Lord Ashley-Cooper, one of the founding lord proprietors of the Carolinas.

"I found the people of Charleston charming and diplomatic, with savoir faire," he commented. This he attributes to their Huguenot background.

"I was most impressed that they realized the importance of preserving history. It is refreshing to find a sense of preservation among people who also wish to progress in a modern world."

The youthful earl believes everyone admires royalty and he is an avid fan of Prince Philip. But he does knock certain types of progress.

He sums up the mod rage and miniskirts with: "The conservative world of Savile Row and the progressive world of Carnaby Street can never meet."

"Dress is more casual in the country, as a result of changes," he admits. "Some don't always put on a jacket and tie for dinner."

"However, one can't sit down to dinner casually dressed when one's butler is in black." Of course not.

NOT FLEEING JUST RUNNING
BOSTON (AP)—"Grab that man," shouted a woman who had just witnessed a finance company holdup. Police officers collared the "suspect" as he ran down the street.

The fellow won back his release promptly, however, after convincing the officers that he was an amateur runner practicing for next spring's Boston Marathon.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

To paint or decorate without masking tape on hand is to start a job without an important tool. Its lack will add hours to the project and make the results far less satisfactory than they might have been.

Masking tape is a special paper tape that is self-adhesive, sticking with very little pressure, and which peels off easily. It leaves no residue.

Sizes most widely available are 3/4-inch, 1-inch and 1 1/2-inch. Narrower tape can be found but you can make narrow strips yourself by slitting the tape lengthwise with a razor blade, an easy task.

Masking tape is used to protect adjoining surfaces while painting. If the surface is a large one, use the tape to hold sheets of paper in place.

Painting?
Use masking tape to protect areas you want to keep free of paint.

Run the tape along the edge, half on the paper, half against the surface you are covering.

Use on Window Panes

When painting window frames, apply the tape along the pane right up to the edge of the wood surface you are painting. The smears that would result from getting the brush up close to the glass will be on the tape instead. Peeling off the tape is easier than cleaning the dirty glass.

Masking tape is invaluable in areas where two surfaces meet—wall and ceiling, corners and so on. Your brush or roller can overlap the tape without worrying about the consequences.

Do not, however, purposely smear the tape with excess paint. Too much solvent soaking through the tape may affect the adhesive, cause discoloration.

Ever wonder how narrow stripes are painted so neatly? It's done with masking tape, and remember this when it is time to re-paint the children's bikes, wagons and other toys.

Paint the surface the color of the stripe first. Then, after the paint has dried hard, apply tape the width of the stripe you want. Then paint the entire surface again, this time with the background color. When you remove the tape you will have perfectly formed stripes.

Using masking tape is not difficult, but using it with success is a little bit more than slapping it on and tearing it off.

Keep Surface Clean

Surfaces should be clean and dry. There should be no grease, dirt or wax. If you are uncertain of the condition of the surface, wash with detergent or wipe with paint thinner.

Use only slight pressure when applying. Make certain it is in total contact, but do not press heavily. Pull the tape to keep it straight, but do not stretch it.

Be careful of surfaces that might be damaged by the adhesive—wallpaper, wallboard, cardboard. Try out the tape in an inconspicuous corner first.

Do not wait too long before peeling off the tape. Remove when paint has set. It can still be tacky, so long as it is not sagging or running.

Leaving the tape on too long, several days for instance, can be bad. If the paint becomes too brittle lifting the tape may lift part of the paint along its edge, leaving a rough line behind.

THE DRAFT AND THE STUDENT

By SHERMAN CHICKERING and PHILIP WERDELL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Fathers who enlisted in World War II are sitting down with their sons to plot strategy on avoiding the draft. It looks as if this nation's most idealistic generation of youth doesn't want to go into the Army. Its strong sense of service is being smothered by cynicism, by a national attitude which says you take what you can, not you get what you give.

A Pentagon study shows that 70 per cent of the million men in the Army Reserves and National Guard joined to avoid the draft. About 40 per cent of regular enlistees and former ROTC officers serving first active duty were also avoiding conscription. Only 8 per cent of these re-enlisted.

A recent NEA-Moderator survey found 52 per cent of male college students have changed their career plans to avoid the draft.

As of January 1966, only 4 per cent of all draftees were college graduates. Yale University President Kingman Brewster claimed that "service to the nation is being mocked" by a policy drafting those "who cannot hide in the endless catacombs of formal education."

During 1966, the FBI reported a record 450 convictions of young men for violations of the Selective Service law. More than 2,000 have moved to Canada to avoid the draft.

These lawbreakers and "refugees" remain a small minority, but the attitude they represent is entrenched in a majority of American students. More than 60 per cent of Brown University students feel there is a general attitude of draft dodging. Student leaders on many other campuses consider this statistic conservative.

Why does today's college student want to avoid the draft? Is he a "draft-dodger"? Has he been corrupted by unseen forces so that he refuses to serve? What about the fact that this college generation makes up the membership of the Peace Corps and most other service organizations?

Living through a period of unparalleled affluence, many American students have developed totally new roles and goals. There are already 10,000 Peace Corps returnees and 15,000 more in service or training. The Peace Corps expects to have more qualified volunteers than it can place by the end of the year. (The increase of volunteers does not seem to be affected by the draft; as the number of volunteers grows, the ratio of men to women remains constant.)

Thousands more students serve in VISTA, the Teachers' Corps and dozens of similar private agencies. More than 250,000 students volunteer 7 million hours a year tutoring children in underprivileged areas of the United States. According to conservative Pentagon estimates, 250,000 young men enlist in the armed forces yearly without any intention of avoiding the draft. Such commitment proves that young men wish to serve their society.

But compulsory military service is diametrically opposed to this growing commitment of voluntary service to society. "The individual can't justify his arbitrary conscription on the basis of his singular experience and inspiration," one student said. "Instead of committing himself, he must obey a command. Instead of obligating himself, he must show his loyalty 'on order.' And the draft seems to act as punishment for those the national government and the local boards say are not contributing to the nation."

Most students confront two contradictory calls to be patriotic. Conscription commands continuous and complete loyalty. The ideal of voluntary service, however, is based on the individual's feelings and his commitment.

Campus polls initiated by the United States National Student Association indicate this internal conflict. More than 90 per cent of students recognize the government's right to draft. But more than 70 per cent are not satisfied with the present system. More than 70 per cent of students polled favor the inclusion of a policy of "alternative service"; that is, the option of service in the armed forces or alternative service such as the Peace Corps, VISTA, the Teachers' Corps or nongovernmental counterparts. Students clearly want choices.

Students accept conscription so as not to appear disloyal. But today's students, born under conscription, living through America's first acceptance of a peacetime draft, bewildered further by the problems of the hostilities in Vietnam, have difficulty believing that conscription can be abolished.

The solution to the dilemma is to replace conscription with voluntary national service.

How will voluntary national service work? That will be discussed in a later article in this series, after or along with the students' views of what's wrong with the present draft system and the way it could be changed while national security is maintained.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SAIGON, Vietnam — (NEA) — One of the indisputable ironies of this war is that it has been, in fact, a blessing for many Vietnamese.

Bui Ba Binh, for example. Five years ago Ba Binh (that isn't his real name) was working as a postal clerk for $25 a month. But no more. Today he makes 10 times that salary.

He's a crook, deals in the black market. And he's never had it so good.

Ba Binh, who recently released information on his business for $10 American and the promise of anonymity, has established his trade on a family basis. The togetherness is paying off handsomely.

The man has four dependents. His two boys, ages 8 and 13, act as legmen for the firm. His daughter, 20, is the mistress of an American Army sergeant and is more or less the international liaison. His wife, a puffy 38, runs the shop, which is to say the shack, which is situated on Pasteur Street in the heart of the city.

"We must work hard," Ba Binh says.

He shakes his head.

"We have a lot of competition."

The two boys are probably the most innocent of the lot. They are merely scavengers who prowl the streets 14 hours a day.

The 8-year-old is a beggar. He bums C ration tins and cigarettes from generous GIs. In a week he can collect enough smokes to fill a carton and enough food to feed a platoon.

The 13-year-old is a garbage man. He tours the capital's refuse pits and trash cans for American throwaways. His principal treasures are old magazines which command a tidy resale price.

Binh's comely, come-hither daughter is more sophisticated. She has lived with a half-dozen foreigners, some at the same time, and currently is nailed to a chubby, five-stripe military-type.

He tells her he loves her deeply, too, and turns all of his gifts over to the family for automatic resale in the Pasteur Street shop.

The wife of the clan centralizes the loot, sacks it and sells it. Day upon day she sits cross-legged in her canvas shanty, brushes the flies from her display and entices passersby:

"You buy? You buy?"

By any standard much of

JUST NAME WHAT YOU WANT and you'll get it, if the price is right, in Saigon's black market.

her merchandise is junk. The cans are bent, the oleomargarine rancid, the magazines yellowed, the soap boxes crushed. Even then, her prices would stop a clock.

Tide soap, small, is $1. Pound of coffee is $3. Army tin of pears, 30 cents. And gum is 5 cents a stick.

But no matter. There are plenty of consumers. U.S. goods are highly coveted and every broken candy bar will eventually find a home.

Ba Binh knows this well, of course. Has for years, in fact. And for just as long he has masterminded his family's plot to insure themselves of every broken bar they can steal or solicit.

A year ago, as illustration, the father bought his way into an arrangement at the local docks. For the price he is guaranteed weekly amounts of goods pilfered from U.S. ships by longshoremen.

During the day the thieves wrap items in plastic bags and weight them under the surface of the river. Then at night, when security is light, the bags are removed.

This kind of thing, of course, entails certain risks. But Ba Binh isn't worried. Black marketing laws are seldom enforced. Police raids only scatter the dust which, in time, settles anew.

In truth, only one thing worries Ba Binh—the future. He knows the war won't last forever. He knows that one day both the Americans and their goods will disappear.

Then what will he do? Go back to the post office at $25 a month?

He sighs.

How will his family ever survive another peace?

NEW YORK — (NEA) — George Segal has gone from killer cop to cop killer, which doesn't sound like much progress but is.

As a killer cop he was an unknown on television. As a cop killer in the film, "St. Valentine's Day Massacre," he is a movie star.

Segal, who can currently be seen as a lone wolf spy in 20th Century-Fox's "The Quiller Memorandum," is a lively, witty, bright young man who has several fine movie credits to his name and is kept so busy he has little time for television, unless it is something special like his role in last season's highly successful "Death of a Salesman."

His rise to top television billing has been quick. After a supporting role in Gidget, also produced by Screen Gems, which produces Love on a Rooftop, he was given his current assignment.

George says he doesn't go along with the European idea of doing any kind of role because the director is famous, even if he plans to improvise half the picture. "You hear actors say 'I'll do anything for you, sir.' Not me. I want to see a script."

Priests Who Work and Pray

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PARIS—(NEA)—De Gaulle's France, striving to be first in Europe, is way ahead of the rest of the world when it comes to worker priests of the Catholic Church.

Last year when Rome sanctioned the return of the worker priest to the world at large, more than 50 clerics were at work in France, where the movement got started during the grim days of the German occupation. Although officially ordered to disband about 10 years ago, the movement stayed alive when some of the clerics displayed their independence and refused to return to the fold.

When the Ecumenical Council decided that the worker priest project had merit, the French churchmen were in a position to take an "I told you so" attitude.

"The goal today," says Father R. Gardet, one of the original priests-at-work during World War II, "is to bring the church closer to the working man and the man closer to the church."

Church officials point out, however, that the priest-at-work doesn't set out to achieve any determined number of conversions and that his presence on the assembly line must be accepted by his coworkers.

While these clerics must abstain from all political activity, they are allowed to join unions and take part in demonstrations to promote better working conditions and higher wages.

Even though the working priest may be accepted as one of the boys, it doesn't mean that the boys are ready to go to church.

"The rift between the working man and the church is still very deep," says Monsignor Vuillot of the Episcopal Committee of the Working Mission. "It is hoped that the priest will be able to work, minus the halo of extraordinary adventure. Workers are now ready to admit that a priest can be just as efficient as the next man and still be a good Jacques besides."

What church officials want to avoid at all costs is sensational publicity, which is one of the reasons Rome officially canceled the program in the 1950s.

Unlike his earlier counterpart, today's evangelizing commando is not thrown out helter skelter. No priest can work unless he has at least three years of religious activity behind him. Radicals and deviationists are eliminated from the movement, hopefully, and the priests that go out into the world are ideal public relations men for the cause.

Today's worker priests are not limited to unskilled labor and take part in almost every professional activity. And, the average Frenchman is likely to be working next to a priest and not know it. Priests are not required to wear the traditional long black cassocks outside the church and in most cases it's impossible to tell him apart from any other garbage collector, furnace repairman or electrical engineer.

Dominican Affair Has Died Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his lonely job President Johnson has to be the long-distance runner.

If he had failed to send troops into the Dominican Republic in 1965, and if the Communists had taken over, he never would have lived it down.

But the Communists didn't prevail and Johnson was criticized. Now that peace has been restored in the republic, criticism of Johnson has died down.

under Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, had its hands in South Vietnam, wanting to keep it away from the Communists.

By the time Johnson took over in 1963 the Reds were helping closer to domination and by 1965 they looked only inches away.

If he had turned his back on the South Vietnamese then, he would have abandoned all previous efforts under Eisenhower and Kennedy to save the country.

And, if the Reds did take over, Johnson never would have lived that down, either. And his failure might have ruined his presidency.

Further, the other Southeast Asia nations which had looked to this country for help against Communist attempts to swamp them — particularly since Red China dominated the continent — undoubtedly would have lost heart.

Johnson not only didn't withdraw American help from South Vietnam, but did the opposite. And the criticism of him for this never has stopped. But criticism from other groups, if he had withdrawn, wouldn't be over now, either.

He ordered the bombing of North Vietnam and now he gets it from both sides at home. Those who claim to be appalled by the bombing and those who say he isn't bombing hard enough.

But if the North Vietnamese agree to quit fighting, if the other Southeast Asia nations are heartened by the American resistance to communism, if communism then is indefinitely discouraged from new adventures, and if peace is restored to the whole area, Johnson eventually will be praised.

Thus he is in the spot of a man who knows he will be criticized no matter what he does, and all he can do is what he thinks best, believing in the end history will justify him.

It's a lonely process. It takes a long time. Meanwhile, he shows no signs of chickening out of his responsibilities as he sees them no matter which side at home tries to climb up his back.

But in the process he is plagued by a problem which has no parallel in American history. He not only has to think about the enemy in this case, North Vietnam, but about the Soviet Union and Red China, which are not directly involved.

Because of the chaos in China today Johnson probably finds it impossible to decide just how much of a role the Red Chinese at this moment are playing in North Vietnam's unwillingness so far to talk peace.

At the same time he can't know what those former friends, but now enemies, the Soviets and Chinese, will do to each other in a way that will affect the war in Vietnam.

The Soviets have been supplying the North Vietnamese with arms, sent through or over Chinese territory. A final Soviet-Chinese split might pretty much end Soviet help for North Vietnam.

That will affect the war. And if the Chinese fall any deeper into their present lunacy, they may lose interest in Vietnam. This kind of guessing, which Johnson has to do, can be rearranged in almost any other direction.

Sunday Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, accused this country of trying to "cover up" intensified war efforts in Vietnam with a "smokescreen of peace talks."

At the same time in London a Soviet commentator was saying Mao Tse-tung was trying to build a "Chinese wall" to halt the flow of supplies and communications between Moscow and North Vietnam in hopes of prolonging the war.

UFO Sightings Boomed All Last Year

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Reports of unidentified flying objects — UFOs — boomed last year, reports Maj. Hector Quintanilla, director of Project Blue Book at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

But whatever the sightings are, it's a safe bet they offer no threat to national security and don't come from outer space, the Air Force says.

A total of 1,060 sightings were submitted to the Air Force during 1966, second highest total since Blue Book began keeping tabs 20 years ago. The annual average is 555, the record 1,501 in 1952.

Of the 11,107 sightings since 1947, Quintanilla says, just 676 remain in the unidentified category. Only 30 of those checked out last year haven't been explained satisfactorily.

Another 242 sightings are listed as having insufficient data for identification.

The rest were identified as astronomical objects, aircraft, balloons, satellites and other natural or man-made items such as missiles, rockets, fireworks, clouds, birds, swamp gas, sparks, and a lighthouse.

To date, Project Blue Book — the Air Force's investigative authority on aerial phenomena — offers these "firm" conclusions:

1. No unidentified flying object reported, investigated and evaluated by the Air Force has ever given any indication of threat to U. S. security.

2. No evidence has been discovered to indicate that any sightings categorized as unidentified represent technological development or principles beyond the range of present-day scientific knowledge.

3. There has been no evidence that any unidentified sightings were outer space vehicles.

A sighting is considered unidentified, the major says, when a report apparently contains all pertinent data necessary to suggest a valid cause or explanation of the report, but the description of the object or its motion cannot be correlated with any known object or phenomenon.

Who says all milk is the same?

Not The Borden Company!

We know that some brands of milk just barely come up to government standards for quality.

At Borden's these standards are only a starting place. The milk we pick up cold, fresh and pure at the dairy farm reaches your family, cold, fresh, pure and better than it has to be.

First, we take the finest raw milk available, then put it through the most modern processing techniques known to dairy science. Then we make sure that every half-gallon contains almost two full cups of cream for extra food value and nourishment children need so much.

It takes 23 separate quality tests to make sure we've bottled the purest, freshest, best-tasting milk you can buy. But over 100 years in the business have taught us it's worth the extra trouble.

After all, it's mostly children who drink Borden's Milk. And we want them to have the best. Don't you?

Man Meter Suggested in Space Flights

By JAMES V. LAMB
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There are scores of instruments in a cockpit to show how an airplane is running and how much fuel is left, but so far there's no meter to show how the pilot's mind is holding out.

A team at the Franklin Institute believes it has solved that problem and can show how much longer — in hours and minutes — a man can effectively do his job. The study may lead some day to a kind of man-meter that works something like our car's fuel gauge.

Carl A. BSilver, manager of the institute's behavioral science laboratory, said the device could be invaluable for men in critical jobs — such as pilots, air traffic controllers or radar scope watchers.

Silver and Bruce Rosenberg, research scientist, said in interviews the device measures a man's reserve and the rate it is being depleted.

Silver used the example of two drivers: "A man who has been driving only 15 minutes is different from one who has been driving eight hours. The man who has driven eight hours probably can't drive another eight. The man who has been driving only 15 minutes can drive much longer — he has some reserve."

Driving, while not physically taxing, can leave a person exhausted at the end of the day.

By measuring the electrical signal from the muscles, and plotting it on graphs Silver and his team say they can predict when efficiency begins to break down.

Procrastination adds to worry.

The Long and Short of It

By BOB COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There's more than one scientific study around which proclaims that men don't particularly enjoy having their hair trimmed. It's a tedious necessity, much like the daily shaving ritual.

Women, on the other hand, apparently relish the idea of being primped, teased, rinsed, curled, frizzed, bobbed, tinted and combed. The weekly trip to the beauty salon is a kind of physical catharsis.

Yet barbers who charge $4 and up for a wash-rinse-style treatment are cropping up all over the place. And their appointment books are filled. These barbers, who have never heard of "shave and a haircut, two bits," specialize in "razor cuts" and hot combs and call themselves "artists" of the hair.

Women, of course, have long realized that a sleek-looking permanent is a definite asset. Men, perhaps because of the current vogue for longer hair, are at last falling into step.

The first visit to a stylist can be a bit harrowing and embarrassing, as one businessman we know found out. With all the references to razor cuts and styling he had heard on television, he decided to give the treatment a try. So he visited a place on New York's Madison Avenue which boasts street-level show windows.

He was ushered to a chair near the window and the next thing he knew he was being shampooed and rinsed. He was about to protest when a big hair dryer swooped down and the barber went out for a smoke.

Fidgeting uncomfortably, he glanced out the window and, to his dismay, a titter of women was watching every move. He had to admit, however, that it was the best haircut he ever had.

"That's not surprising," says George Pascual, a 28-year-old stylist who recently opened his own swank shop on New York's East Side. "Men, although they won't admit it, also want to look beautiful."

"Stylists try to cut the hair to flatter the man. An ordinary haircut is just that—an ordinary haircut. Nobody has the same shape head or the same type of hair. Why should a man settle for a haircut which is identical to the next man's?"

Pascual is sure that long hair will remain popular for a long time. "The only people who fight long hair seem to be school principals and soldiers. Ask any woman what she thinks of long hair on a man. She'll say she likes it, and why? Because it's sexy."

Pascual has a point. Women spend hours at their beauty parlors mainly because they want to look attractive to men. Men are no less interested in trying to look attractive to women. A classy haircut helps.

Now that Clairol has unashamedly advertised its hair-coloring products for men (with major sports figures serving as models), now that the nation's wigmakers are offering hairpieces for men, there doesn't seem to be any good reason why a balding, graying man can't look 10 or 20 years younger, if he chooses.

If perpetual youth is good enough for women, it's certainly good enough for men.

land, created a slick magazine which is available only in barbershops, men's clubs and fraternity houses. It's called "Dare" and presents the compelling notion that "life should be led like a cavalry charge." A current issue includes a story on motorcycle scrambling, several good cartoons and a men's fashion column written by John Weitz, the New York designer.

The Sea: A New Frontier

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Russian Navy, which has no aircraft carriers, uses the submarine as its global arm. Currently, more than 400 Soviet submarines prowling the depths of the five oceans and most of the world's seas.

For this reason, the U.S. Navy goes in for antisubmarine warfare (ASW) in a big way—more than $3 billion a year—for strictly defensive reasons. So, the U.S. sub program covers two fronts—offense and defense.

Nearly 90 per cent of the 400 Soviet submarines are run by conventional diesel engines, but the Russians are adding about 10 nuclear-powered subs a year. Diesel-powered subs must surface to recharge their batteries.

Current estimates place the Soviet nuclear-powered sub pack strength at around 45.

The United States has 75 nuclear-powered subs: 41 Polaris types (armed with atomic-tipped missiles) and 34 attack-antisub models. In addition, the United States has more than 100 conventional underwater vessels.

Over the years, ASW systems development has tended to lag behind submarine development.

Since World War II, the submarine's submerged speed has increased five-fold, as has its depth capacity. Its underwater endurance has become nearly infinite and its sonars, fire control systems and weapons are sophisticated enough so that it can attack without surfacing.

ASW systems are now mainly a matter of acoustics. Navy search planes can still blanket the oceans, but they are not effective against deep-diving subs.

Of the Navy's $3-plus billion ASW budget, about $400 million goes for research and development, most of it in the area of acoustics. The latest hardware to come off the drawing boards is the sonobuoy—a lightweight, ultrasonic "bug" which is dropped onto the ocean from planes to search for subs. Soon, sonobuoys can be used in by a plane regardless of how fast it's traveling.

Once a hostile sub is located, a variety of ASW arms can go into action. Among them:

• Hunter-killer subs: These are "Thresher" type vessels which can fire underwater missiles as well as conventional torpedoes. Some 64 are planned, but only seven of these subs now exist. About half a dozen are built a year.

• Destroyers and destroyer escorts (DEs): Currently there are more than 200 destroyers and 100 new DEs on antisub duty. Each ship is equipped with antisub rockets and the latest sonar gear.

• Unmanned drones: There are more than 100 DASH (Drone Antisub Helicopter) choppers aboard destroyers. Each carries an antisub rocket which is fired electronically.

• Carrier-based ASW aircraft: The backbone of this arm is the Sikorsky Sea King helicopter. Also available are Grumman Trackers with electronic detection equipment.

The director of the Navy's ASW programs is Vice Adm. Charles Martell, who has been given carte blanche to shape ASW research. To Martell, research is important, but it's not everything.

"Reliability is our goal. During a war there may be no contacts with enemy subs for months. Yet when we strike it must be fast and precise," says Martell. "I'd like to say that industry-Navy efforts in reliability have been highly successful, but the truth is they have not in many cases."

"I'd rather have a dumb torpedo that acted dumb time after time than to have a sophisticated torpedo that always had a nervous breakdown."

Some areas, he continues, have produced great satisfaction. Sonobuoys, for instance, are now giving better than 95 per cent operability in fleet maneuvers. Other areas (which he does not specify) have produced little satisfaction.

"When I hear somebody say, 'Well, we realize that this particular area is not exactly up to standards, but our follow-on gear will certainly correct this,' I want to throw the guy out of my office," he says.

Martell—and many other Navy sources, for that matter—believe that a war at sea is now a distinct possibility, particularly since intelligence sources have revealed that Red China is fairly close to developing a missile-firing sub.

A sea war—most likely in the form of sub attacks against Vietnam shipping—would present a reasonably slim chance of escalation into nuclear war, they point out. To these men, the Navy's annual expenditure of $400 million in ASW research and development is too small by half.

On Nov. 30, 1966, Barbados, a 166-square-mile island, became the smallest independent nation in the Western Hemisphere.

Separate Prison Boards Bill Offered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Gean McDonald of Sheridan introduced a bill in the Arkansas House Tuesday making prison and pardons and paroles functions under separate boards.

Rep. Harry Hibern of Walnut Ridge introduced a measure to place a one-cent tax on bottled soft drinks and a 90-cent tax on liquid soft drink syrup, with revenues going to the Arkansas Children's Colony and the public school fund to educate mentally retarded students.

Meanwhile, the Senate Roads and Highways Committee introduced a bill requiring annual inspections for motor vehicles that would require motorists to obtain certificates declaring their cars had been inspected and found safe. The certificates would cost 50 cents.

The bill, expected to be the most controversial of the administration package, would provide fines from $1 to $5,000 and 1-10-year prison sentences for violators.

Also introduced in the Senate Tuesday were measures that would:

— Authorize the creation of a combined city - county - state health unit in cities of the first class.

— Permit circuit and chancery judges to employ law clerks.

— Require lawsuits for alienation of affection to be filed within one year after the action that causes the suit to be filed.

— Honor J. W. Hull of Russellville, who is retiring this year as president of Arkansas Polytechnic College at Russellville.

— Invite U.S. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) to address a joint session of the state legislature on Feb. 27.

Also introduced in the House were bills that would:

— Regulate outdoor advertising and junkyards along interstate and primary highways.

WINDY WELLINGTON

WELLINGTON (AP) — This New Zealand capital is known as Windy Wellington, and on the word of Dr. J. F. de Lisle the cap fits.

Dr. de Lisle, a scientist, says a study he has made of wind in New Zealand has proved Wellington is by far the windiest city. In the past five years, it recorded one gust of 154 miles per hour, and several over the 100 m.p.h. mark.

The typical American sends not one but five Valentines, according to an estimate by Hallmark Cards.

Lissome Ballerinas Fight Bulge, Too

By PATRICIA KING
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—How often have you sighed wistfully as you watched a model glide down the runway or a graceful ballerina in a swirling cloud of tulle float across a stage?

If you find yourself envying their slender figures, you might be surprised to discover that these beauties worry about gaining weight and inches, too.

According to three young dancers in the Corps de Ballet of the New York City Ballet, they also face the figure problems of fighting unwanted pounds.

Despite their rigid practice sessions and exercise routines, extra nibbling can add bulges. And you thought it happened only to you!

Penny Gates, a dancer from Maine, explained: "Dancers have a tendency to nibble all day due to their irregular hours for eating."

At least they have an excuse. Most of us nibble because we're bored or because the snacks are there for the nibbling. The only sensible solution is not to have anything in the refrigerator or cupboard that's tempting.

The ballerinas find it's easier to grab anything that's handy, "from a box of cookies to a few stray candy bars." Sound familiar?

This, of course, is bad news for anyone who wants a slim figure. And if it's dangerous for those who are constantly exercising, it's figure suicide for those of us who lead a comparatively sedentary life.

Dancer Ruth Anne King's doctor pointed out that she

THREE YOUNG DANCERS in the New York City Ballet face the same problems as many women struggling with unwanted pounds. Elaine Comsudi (left) and Penny Gates (right) warm up while Ruth Anne King collapses into a split and sips her 10-ounce liquid diet lunch. tain amount of vitamins and proteins as well as exercise to keep it in good shape and in good health.

Penny Gates discovered a 10-ounce can of liquid diet food that turned out to be a light but filling time-saver. Now most of the girls sip a balanced meal during working hours (in a variety of flavors).

"It's fast, nourishing and leaves us feeling satisfied without a heavy, lumpy feeling," said Elaine Comsudi, another member of the ballet corps.

When there's no time to eat your steak and spinach, it's a healthier way to fill the hunger gap than chomping on a candy bar.

VALUABLE PAINTING GIVEN
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Museum of Fine Arts is recipient of "The Street Singer," a celebrated painting by Edouard Manet valued at $800,000. The painting was left to the museum by the late Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears. "There are few more valuable works in the museum," said museum director Perry T. Rathbone.

Barbecue Chicken Whole for Economy

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Admittedly cut-up broiler and fryer-size chickens are a convenience. But thrifty-minded shoppers know that the whole chicken is a better buy, usually being two or even three cents cheaper a pound.

When chickens are reasonable, buy several. Cook what you need at the moment and freeze the remainder. Learn how to cut them up and freeze the pieces in amounts to suit your family. Make stock with the backs, necks and giblets and freeze the stock and giblets, all chopped ready for use.

Don't cut up all the whole chickens you buy. A chicken does not have to be a roaster before you can roast it. Put the broiler or fryer in the oven and roast it with only a brushing of oil and a sprinkling of paprika, salt and pepper. Or brush it with barbecue sauce and oven-barbecue it whole.

OVEN-BARBECUED CHICKEN

- 1 1/2 cup corn oil
- 3/4 cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons light corn syrup

Banana Cream Is Premier Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most everyone likes bananas. And most everyone likes a luscious cream pie. There are lots of bananas in your markets, so enjoy yourselves.

FRESH BANANA CREAM PIE

- 1 (3-oz.) package vanilla pudding
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 3 fresh bananas
- 1 9-inch graham cracker pastry
- Whipped cream for garnish

Prepare vanilla pudding according to package directions. Add sugar. Fold in whipped cream. Line bottom of graham cracker crust with sliced bananas. Pour cream filling over bananas and chill. Garnish with additional whipped

Look at Me, I'm Writing

IN ORBIT. By Wright Morris.
New American Library. $3.95.

Morris is a well-known writer whose principal following is among academic students of the American novel.

His tale is about a morose young draft dodger, who steals a motorcycle outfit, complete with plastic helmet, and then runs out of gas in a little college town just as a cyclone is about to strike.

He chances to find a feeble-minded woman who offers little or no resistance to his advances and then is pursued by a farcical newspaper editor. Among the other oddballs on the scene is a very eccentric member of the college faculty.

Theoretically, this is a story equating the arrival of this young punk and the storm. Both of them appear out of nowhere, stir up the whole community and then move on.

Morris is very good at description and conveys impressions aptly. The dialogue is convincing.

But somehow there is a catch to all this. The reader is as conscious of the act of writing as he is of the action of the story. Morris is the English teacher (and he is not the only one these days) who demonstrates to his students how well he can write. But he seems to have lost sight of the idea that art must conceal its own art.

Folley Next for Champion Cassius Clay

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay, the most active heavyweight boxing champion since Joe Louis, will make his next title defense against Zora Folley, probably March 22 in Madison Square Garden.

The Associated Press learned Tuesday night the fight will be announced today at a noon press conference.

Clay also has plans to follow with title defenses against Thad Spencer by June and probably George Chuvalo of Canada in Montreal during the Montreal Exposition this summer, the AP learned.

The Folley fight, expected to be shown on home television over the RKO-Madison Square Garden network, follows Clay's unanimous 15-round decision over World Boxing Association champion Ernie Terrell in Houston earlier this month.

The WBA formally recognized Clay as the world champion this week, apparently clearing the way for the Folley fight in New York. Clay had been banned from New York after signing for a second title fight against Sonny Liston in 1965, a fight eventually held in Lewiston, Maine.

Folley, 34, from Chandler, Ariz., currently ranked the No. 1 challenger by the WBA, has been a pro for 14 years and has won his last 11 fights for a 75-7-3 record. His last loss was a 10-round decision to Terrell in New York in 1963. He has never fought for the championship.

In this field, it takes so long to mature.

—Lynda Bird Johnson, after three months as a magazine writer.

ECONOMICAL—barbecued whole chicken.

- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons paprika
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 cloves garlic, quartered
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne
- Dash freshly ground black pepper
- 2 (2 1/2- to 3-pound) chickens, whole

Combine corn oil, vinegar, corn syrup, Worcestershire sauce, paprika, salt, garlic, cayenne and pepper in saucepan. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Brush inside of each chicken with sauce. Brush skins of chickens with sauce. Place in dish; cover and let stand in refrigerator at least 1 hour.

Turn wings under akimbo style and pin neck skin to body with a skewer. Tie legs to tail with a soft cord. Place chicken, breast side up, on a rack in a large roasting pan. Brush thoroughly with marinade. Roast in a 350-degree (moderate) oven, basting frequently with marinade, 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until thickest part of thigh feels very soft when pressed with fingers protected with paper towel, or until leg joint moves easily. Each chicken makes about 4 servings.

SUPERB EATING—banana cream pie.

cream and bananas cut into lengthwise strips. Six servings.

BANANA LUNCHEON SALAD

- 1 head lettuce
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1 cup minced dried beef or cooked ham
